Let's Start!

Let's get to know the real Tracy.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you have a friend you want to know better? What does he or she do to relax?
- How well do your friends know you?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about people's daily routines and habits.
- I can talk about how something happens or how someone behaves.
- I can say what people are doing now or in the future.

Let's Explore!

So, tell me about this Tracy!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Doug: So I'm finally meeting the real Tracy Tuesday night.

Peter: I guarantee you Doug, this time it will work out! I'm feeling completely positive about it!

Doug: What are your plans?

Peter: Well, we are going to see that new romantic comedy movie Tuesday.

Doug: That's a good idea. What else are you going to do that evening?

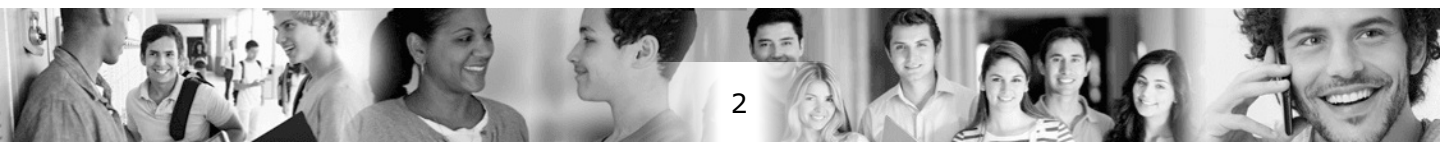

Peter: We're having dinner at Le Bistrot de Robert. After dinner, we're taking a carriage ride around the park. Then we're going to the movie. I thrive on the excitement. I just need to get rid of any fears. How do you conquer your fears?

Doug: I frequently take a walk, sit in the park or read a book, then feed the birds.

Peter: That sounds nice. I routinely do meditation. That helps me relax! You should try it!

Peter: Hello, Tracy? ... Well, undoubtedly, Tuesday will be one of your best nights ever! ... I'm greatly looking forward to it too. Bye!

Doug: Ah, that's so sweet!

Let's Practice!

For Peter, life is about living in the moment!

Instructions: Complete the sentences. Practice saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Learning Points

Adverbs of Manner

You use adverbs of manner to describe how something is done.

Example: She strongly voiced her concerns. How did she voice her concerns? Strongly.

Many adverbs are formed by adding -ly to an adjective:

Examples: routine → routinely quick → quickly

Some adverbs are formed by adding -ally

Example: public → publically

These adverbs can come after the direct object or after the verb if there isn't any direct object.

Habits and Routines

When you talk about someone's habits and routines, you use the Present Simple tense and frequency words.

You use expressions of frequency to say how many times you do an activity.

This can be an adverb like often, sometimes or never.

It can also be an expression like a lot, all the time or when I can.

Adverbs	Expressions
always usually often sometimes occasionally hardly ever never	every day/week/month most of the time every other day/week/month once in a while from time to time when ...

Examples:

- Perry usually walks in the park.
- Carol always gives good advice.
