

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

How about a blind date?

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever been on a blind date?
- Have you ever set up a friend on a blind date?
- How often do you go on dates?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about people's behavior and personality.
- I can say what people are doing now or in the future.
- I can talk about people's habits.

Let's Explore!

Peter is nervous about his blind date

* A "blind date" is a social meeting arranged for two people who have never met before.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Tom: Hey Peter, you go to the movies often, right?
Peter: Yes, I do. In fact, I'm going to one tomorrow! Do you want to come?
Tom: I can't, but I know someone who consistently goes to movies on Friday nights. Why don't you go with her?
Peter: Her? You mean like a date? A blind date?
Tom: Are you feeling a little apprehensive about that? Don't! She's got a killer smile and a distinct sense of humor.
Peter: I'm not much of an extrovert, you know. I never go on blind dates.
Tom: Just remember to relax and be yourself. You guys will have a great time!
Peter: Is she going to call me or something? Or should I call her?
Tom: She's expecting your call at around 9 tonight.
Peter: Oh, man! I'm nervous ...
Tom: Don't be. It'll be great! You guys are going to have a super time.
Peter: Ok, give me her number. I'll call her later.
Tom: Awesome! The movies starts at 8 tomorrow. Don't be late picking her up.

Let's Practice!

How would you describe Peter and his date?

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Choose the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word bank

apprehensive / distinct / extrovert

1. Peter is feeling a little _____ about the date.
2. Peter's date has a _____ sense of humor.
3. Peter doesn't consider himself to be an _____.

Let's Practice!

Now, routinely or in the future?

Instructions: Classify the sentences into the option. Write the sentence number in the corresponding category.

1. I'm going to a movie tomorrow!
2. Are you feeling a little apprehensive about that?
3. You guys will have a great time!
4. You always have a great time.
5. Is she going to call me or something?
6. She usually calls in the evening.
7. She's expecting your call at around 9 tonight.
8. The movie starts at 8 tomorrow.

Happening Now:

— — —

Happening in the Future:

Happens Routinely:

Extension Activity

Talk about what people are doing now or in the future.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Prepare a dialogue (10-12 sentences) about what you are doing now and what you are doing next week.
- Read your dialogue to your partner.
- Discuss your future plans with your partner.
- Switch roles.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I can write a dialogue about my present and future plans.

☐ ☐

I can share my dialogue with a partner.

☐ ☐

I can discuss my future plans with my partner.

☐ ☐

I can listen to my partner share their plans.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- distinct (adjective): very different
e.g. She has a distinct sense of humor.
- killer (adjective): very attractive
e.g. She has a killer smile.
- extrovert (noun): someone who is very active, lively, and friendly
e.g. I'm not much of an extrovert, you know.
- apprehensive (adjective): being afraid that something bad may happen
e.g. Are you feeling a little apprehensive?
- consistently (adverb): to do the same thing all the time
e.g. I know someone who consistently goes to the movies on Friday nights.

Learning Points

Talking About Future Actions

You can use four different tenses to talk about the future.

- When you talk about things that are not decided or when you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future, you use the modal will.
- When you ask about intentions, you use going to.
- When you talk about things that are arranged, on the agenda or booked for the future, you use the Present Continuous tense.
- When you talk about schedules or timetables in the future, you use the Simple Present tense.

Will	It'll be great. I'll call her later.
Going to	I'm going to a movie tomorrow. You guys are going to have a super time.
Present Continuous	She's expecting your call at around 9 tonight.
Simple Present tense	The movie starts at 8 tomorrow.

